

Table of Contents

Presenting a Social Justice and Equity-Oriented PDS Research Model: Example of a Sensory Ethnography of the Experiences of English Learners and the Role of Raciolinguistics	1
Madjiguene Salma Bah Fall
Mutually Beneficial Professional Development Partnerships: One Model
Christina Janise McIntyre, Daphney Leann Curry, & Bonne King
A Sustainable Teacher Residency: Designing Paid Internships for Teacher Education
John E. Henning
A Co-Constructed School-University Partnership Model of Professional Development for Teachers.....
David Littlefair
The Potential for Dispositions Assessments to Evaluate PDS Relationships
Austin Kureethara Manuel, Dittika Gupta, Timothy Hinchman
Structuring Field-Based University Methods Courses in a PDS: A Win-Win for Teacher Candidates and Elementary Students
Patricia J. Norman & Melissa Siller
Music Education and Mutually Beneficial Partnerships: Building a Model for Long-term Professional Development
Matthew D. Luttrell & Adam P. Lynskey
Breaking with Tradition: A New Approach to Professional Development Schools
Pamela H. Segal
Fostering Teacher Leadership for Mutually Beneficial Programs: An Early Childhood PDS Partnership Case Study
M. Barbara Trube, Nancy Cryder Jones, Kit E. Kinnamon, Leslie Smith, Susan Congrove, & Karen Corcoran	