

Table of Contents

Forward to the Summer 2019 SUP Special Issue:
Goodlad's Legacy: A Deliberation of Simultaneous Renewal.....	1
Megan E. Lynch and Bernard Badiali
Section I: Historical Perspectives of John Goodlad's Work
John Goodlad and the Origins of Simultaneous Renewal.....	7
Robert V. Bullough, Jr.
Goodlad's Five-Year Study Across Three Texts
The Moral Dimensions of Teaching, Places Where
Teachers are Taught, and Teachers for our Nation's Schools	13
Megan E. Lynch and Bernard Badiali
Section II: The Greater Context of Partnership Work, Democracy, and Simultaneous Renewal
Examining School-University Partnerships:
Synthesizing the Work of Goodlad, AACTE, and NAPDS.....	24
Drew Polly, Luke T. Reinke, and S. Michael Putman
Partnering, Democratic Citizenship, and
Goodlad's Agenda for Education in a Democracy.....	41
Robert V. Bullough, Jr.
Section III: Professional Development Schools Through the Lens of Goodlad's Work Engaging Goodlad's Postulates in
Clinically-Based Social Studies Teacher Education.....	55
Sonia Janis, Mardi Schmeichel, and Joe McAnulty
The Influence of John Goodlad's Legacy:
Developing a School-University Partnership
in an Urban School District.....	72
Shamaine Bazemore-Bertrand, Erin Quast, and Kay Green
Transforming Math Education through Revitalization of the PDS Model.....	83
Julie Thiele and Sherri Martinie
Section IV: Narratives and First-Person Perspectives on Democracy and Renewal Finding our Place in the Third Space: The Authority of Not Knowing as
Becoming in School-University Partnership Work.....	95
Hannah Carter, Jennifer Snow, Sara DiGrazia, and Sherry Dismuke
Stewards of Simultaneous Renewal: Re-grounding
our Work in Memory, Relationships, and Time.....	106
Holly Klock
What This Course is for: Contemplating Goodlad's Legacy to Reclaim Teaching.....	112
Sarrah J. Grubb
Epilogue to the Summer 2019 SUP Special Issue: Remembering Yesterday.....	117
Bernard Badiali	